

Vorsite Solutions: Enterprise Content Integration for SharePoint

Solution Overview

To be effective, employees must be able to access and interact with information and knowledge throughout an organization. A true enterprise information integration solution does not expect that all information is captured in a single location; it anticipates an organization's unique needs, and builds an infrastructure to fill the information gaps. We research these requirements, utilize the expertise gained through our connector products for EMC|Documentum and IBM FileNet and apply our services to make enterprise information integration successful on all fronts.

We work with you to appropriately configure a solution that will provide one or all of the following:

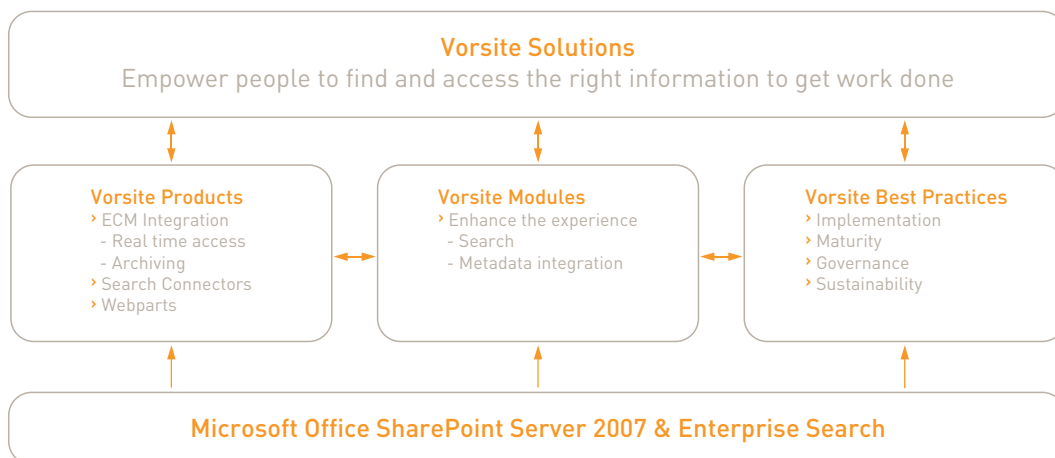

- › Actionable access into other ECM systems via SharePoint
- › Fast archival of information from SharePoint into other systems
- › Unified and federated search incorporating data from other systems through the SharePoint search interface

Our Approach

We invest in you. Before signing a single contract we work with you to discover your needs, goals and use-cases to develop the correct solution for you.

Our flexibility means no advantage is lost. We achieve incremental successes affording us the opportunity to turn on a dime if necessary. We utilize an Agile approach which supplies measurable results iteratively, providing you with the control of when to take deliverables live.

Knowledgeshare

We are business solutions driven. We believe that it is important to understand your organizational goals, clearly identify your criteria for success, and develop a measurable plan for growth. We focus not only on the initial investments, but will continue to work with you to understand long-term costs and how best to enable your staff to maintain the solution and your investment.

Our Advantage

- › Agile delivery methodology
- › Expert knowledge of SharePoint, enterprise content management and integration and search technologies
- › Inside experience and relationships with Microsoft and other industry-leading enterprise software developers
- › Original creator of integration and search software purchased and resold by major software companies as well as competing systems integrators
- › Flexible, personable and creative consultants and developers
- › Record of success as a trusted partner to high profile global companies

You don't need to reinvent the wheel. Through our experience working with customers, partners, and our own employees internally, we have developed an approach that utilizes best practices, existing modules and Vorsite products. We call this our KnowledgeShare, a framework that provides a rich and efficient solution without the cost of starting from scratch.

For more information

5470 Shilshole Ave NW #500
Seattle, WA 98107
206 781 1797
www.vorsite.com

vorsite 